I know what the email says she read it off and showed me last night and that's when we had the conversation of how she might not be able to let me go because you're just gonna file it on court

I'll file the parental alienation if she dont let ya now

I love you butt the judge is going to have to order visits cause if I dont her permission in writing she could turn me in for a variety of charges right as we pull out

2 more weeks is last hearing so

Sorry butt she has tried to trap me to many times
